INTRODUCTION

The collection of Sir Emil Hurja (1892-1953), newspaper editor, 1911-1926; editor of Pathfinder magazine, 1939-1945; financial analyst, 1927-1939, assistant to Jim Farley and executive director of the Democratic National Committee, 1932-1937; and collector of Andrew Jackson manuscripts; was purchased for the Tennessee Historical Society by Mr. P. G. Bigler, New York, New York; Mr. Rosser J. Coke, Dallas, Texas; Mr. R. A. Hummel, New York, New York; Mr. Robert G. Stone, Boston, Massachusetts; Mrs. Margaret S. Weeks, Woodbury, Connecticut; and Mr. Henry J. Wolff, New York, New York, in 1954.

The collection occupies 6.30 cubic feet of shelf space, and numbers approximately 550 items and 3 volumes. Single photocopies of unpublished writings in the Sir Emil Hurja Collection may be made for purposes of scholarly research.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The Emil Hurja Collection, consisting of approximately 550 items and three volumes, spans the period 1795-1953. The collection is arranged into three parts: the Emil Hurja (1892-1953) Papers; the Andrew Jackson (1767-1845) Materials; and the Peter Force (1790-1868) Materials.

The Emil Hurja Papers are comprised of cartoons, clippings, correspondence, honors, etc., military records, pamphlets, photographs, scrapbooks, speeches and several miscellaneous items. One large scrapbook contains souvenirs, photographs, reports, invitations, etc. dealing with the period when Hurja was in school at the University of Washington, 1913-1917, where he took a prominent part in journalistic activities – a preview of his later career as a newspaper editor and publisher. A second large volume entitled, “Through Europe With Henry Ford’s Peace Expedition, 1915-1916,” contains clippings, photographs, invitations, programs, mementos and other items about this expedition. Emil Hurja was chosen in his Junior year at college to make this peace tour of Europe. The volume contains a number of newspaper comments on the mission. A third volume contains letters, cards, telegrams, and clippings, at the time of the death of Emil Hurja in 1953. It is entitled, “In Loving Memory of My Husband.” The correspondence in this part of the collection concerns Hurja in the political field when he announced that he would run for Congress. The letters are from a number of politically prominent people, including Herbert Hoover, Estes Kefauver, Bennett C. Clark, Harold Knutson, Owen Brewster, Styles Bridges, Thomas E. Derney, Warren R. Austin, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, during the period 1942-1946. Although the letters are from prominent persons they are all concerned either with Hurja’s candidacy or his work with the Pathfinder magazine which he edited during the years 1939-1942.

The Jackson material in this collection includes 55 original Jackson letters, several typed copies and facsimiles, and about 15 other documents signed by Jackson. A number of portraits and engravings of Andrew Jackson are included in the collection. The original manuscript of Marquis James’s two volume Life of Jackson, is housed in the final 5 boxes.

There are approximately 180 items in the Peter Force group and other political correspondence concerning Jackson. Peter Force was the editor of the National Journal, an anti-Jackson newspaper, published in Washington. The letters to Peter Force are primarily concerned with the presidential elections of 1824 and 1828 and the candidates, John Quincy Adams, Henry Clay, William H. Crawford, and persons and articles and letters written to various editors. Correspondents include James Buchanan, Henry Clay, and a letter (facsimile) from John Q. Adams to James Madison. An index of the letters in the Andrew Jackson and Peter Force materials is included with this register.

Approximately twenty books, including two written by Hurja, and four volumes of the Pathfinder magazine have been removed from the collection and transferred to the Library.

A number of museum items, including a large American flag, medals, and two plates commemorating “The Colonization of the Delaware Valley by Swedes and Finns, 1638,” were transferred to the State Museum. Several pictures of Andrew Jackson along with a broadside were also transferred or loaned to the State Museum (See original register for specific items).
