INTRODUCTION

The papers of Fayette Avery McKenzie (1872-1957), B.S. Lehigh University; Ph.D., University of Pennsylvania; Teacher – Shoshoni Indian Reservation, 1903-1905; Ohio State University, 1905-1914; Juniata College, 1897-1900, 1927-1941; and President of Fisk University, 1915-1925, were given to the Tennessee State Library and Archives by Mrs. F.A. McKenzie of Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, through the agency of her daughter, Mrs. W.H. Roberts, of Nashville, Tennessee in August of 1960.

The materials in this collection measure 2.83 linear feet. There are no restrictions on the materials. Single photocopies of unpublished writings in the Fayette Avery McKenzie Papers may be made for purposes of scholarly research.
SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Fayette Avery McKenzie Papers, composed of approximately 2,000 items, contain correspondence, diaries, clippings, items dealing with Fisk University, the Shoshoni Indian Reservation, the Society of American Indians, Juniata College, and numerous writings of Dr. F.A. McKenzie on religious and sociological subjects. Dr. McKenzie wrote his doctoral dissertation on the Indians, and in the preparation for his work, he taught for two years at the Shoshoni Indian Reservation in Wyoming. The dissertation was published in 1908 and a copy of the study, which came with the papers, has been placed in the Tennessee State Library. Dr. McKenzie was instrumental in organizing the Society of American Indians and all of his life did much to further the progress of the Indian and the Negro. His years at Fisk University are marked by the recognition of Fisk as an accredited college and by the addition of a million dollars to its endowment. After leaving Fisk, Dr. McKenzie spent a year in France studying and writing, and after several months working on Indian projects in the United States, he returned in 1927 to Juniata College in Huntingdon, Pennsylvania. There, he taught sociology until he retired in 1941. The McKenzie papers are filled with accounts of his various civic activities. Dr. McKenzie was interested in adult education and was in charge of radio programs known as the Peoples University. Four chapters of an unpublished manuscript entitled “Leisure and Prosperity: A Philosophy of Civilization” and some reprints of published articles are among the papers.

The diaries in the collection were kept during periods spent abroad. Interesting accounts are given of trips with Professor Comte, a noted Frenchman, who was in charge of a welfare program in which children of Paris were carried into the country for the summer. Dr. McKenzie related some interesting experiences in France where he happened to be at the outbreak of World War I.

The addition to the Fayette Avery McKenzie Papers, approximately 100 items, is composed of correspondence, diary material, photographs, Indian material, Fisk University papers and letters, programs, invitations, and writings. Part of the diary material is an addition to the data about France in 1914. The other part is a journal kept during an annual religious camp meeting at Ganado, Arizona from March 28 to April 3, 1927. It contains the story of some Indian conversions and a description of a Navajo marriage. The chief correspondents on Indian affairs are Alida C. Bowler, S.M. Brosuis, Sherman Coolidge, Charles E. Dagenett, M. Friedman, George B. Griggs, Rosa B. LaFlesche, Thomas C. Moffett, Dr. Carlos Montezuma, Arthur C. Parker, and Robert H. Pratt. In 1926-1927, Dr. McKenzie was sent by the Institute for Government Research with an Indian staff to study problems on the various reservations. An itinerary of the survey together with the observations made are included for the following reservations: Concho, Cantonment Agency, Coeur d’Alene, Chippewas, Crow, Fort Apache, Ford Bidwell, Fort Hall, Fort Lapwai, Harasupai, Hoppa Valley, Hopi, Klamath, Leupp, Mission, Navajo, Pueblo, Pawnee, Pima, Pine Ridge, Ponca, Potawatomi, Rosebud, Seger, Shoshoni, Silitz, Sioux, Southern Pueblos, Tongue River, Uintah and Curey,
Umatilla, Western Navajos, Winnebago, Yakima, and Yankton. A number of photographs of Indians and the reservations are with the papers. A sketch of Haskell Institute, a boarding high school for Indians, is also with this addition.

The letters of Dr. Patrick Geddis contain a great deal of information about the College Des Ecossais at Montpellier, France where he was a professor of sociology and city planning. He wrote of the establishment of the American and Indian colleges and gave an account of the subjects taught including botany, archaeology, history, and philosophy.

Two letters worth attention were written by William Meyer, July 3 and August 25, 1927, from the American Presbyterian Mission in China. They contain some account of conditions in China at this time, travel, food supplies, health, government, resources, land, etc.

The addition to the McKenzie Papers contains more information regarding the rioting and demonstrations which occurred at Fisk University in early 1925 and resulted in the resignation of Dr. McKenzie. The trouble seems to have been caused by the agitation of a group under the leadership of Dr. William Edward Burghardt Du Bois (1868-1963). Du Bois denied the charge but wished he had been responsible for the riot, according to one writer. The letters dealing with Fisk and its problems were written by a number of Fisk students and teachers and others, chief among whom were Wallace A. Battle, M.G. Brumbaugh, Althea Brown Edmiston, R.C. Edmondson, Isaac Fisher, Paul Goode, R.J. Gross, Thomas Jesse Jones, Henry L. McDonald, Robert McMurdy, Mary E. (Helman) Pettrilli, Dora Scribner, Addie Frances Sweet, Arch and Kate Trawick, Byron W. Valentine, George N. White, and James R. Withrow.

There are some interesting photographs of Fisk University, the Board of Trustees during Dr. McKenzie’s administration, the Fisk Jubilee Singers, and the President’s home.

The remainder of this addition is largely in the form of clippings of the writings of Dr. McKenzie containing a large number of “Occasional Papers” on a variety of subjects.
