The petition for review may include the documents listed below and should, preferably, be submitted on paper that is "8.5 x 11" single-sided, with portrait orientation:

- A short and plain statement of the facts that support the secured party's claim that the filed record was filed with reasonable basis or legal cause;
- A copy of the Uniform Commercial Code Fraudulent Lien Notarized Affidavit served on you by the Tennessee Secretary of State;
- The name, address, telephone number and email address of the secured party filing the petition for review;
- A description of the collateral, including its location and value;
- A description of the security agreement between the debtor and the secured party, including the date and payment terms of the agreement. A copy of any written agreement between the debtor and the secured party must be attached to the petition for review;
- Any other factors that are relevant to the determination of whether the financing statement was filed with reasonable basis or legal cause;
- The signature of the secured party or the secured party's attorney, and if the secured party is a business entity, the signature of an individual with authority to sign, as well as that individual's title within the business entity;
- Pursuant to T.C.A § 47-9-513(e)(5)(B) a petition for review must be accompanied by a cost bond in the amount of United States two hundred dollars ($200). Acceptable cost bonds include the following:
 - Money order or cashier's check made payable to the Tennessee Secretary of State;
 - Attorney's check. A check made payable to the Tennessee Secretary of State, from an attorney licensed to practice law in the State of Tennessee. An attorney must include his or her Tennessee Board of Professional Responsibility number on the check for it to be considered valid;
 - Surety. The filing office may accept a surety signed by an attorney licensed to practice in the State of Tennessee, a bond from a licensed bonding company, or a corporate surety bond.

The cost bond requirement does not apply to any financial institution that is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, insured by the National Credit Union Administration or regulated by the Farm Credit Administration.
