

What does it mean to be a great leader?

A great leader is someone who helps others, is responsible, and leads from the front. An example of a great leader for kindergarten is the class line leader. The line leader shows others the correct path to take. Line leaders don't have to be the bravest, strongest, or tallest. They just need to try their best and give it their all. Being a line leader is not easy, but with this important job, you learn to work well with others. Being a great leader means I should treat others with respect, and be the best me I can be.
